

Vacancy: Bachelor Intern Job Communication / Communication & Multimedia Design (CMD) | Profiling REGAIN Projecten

Do you want to mean something to the world and work on real-life assignments in an international environment? Then why not choose an internship or graduation position at the Centre of Expertise Water Technology (CEW), at WaterCampus Leeuwarden?

CEW devises, researches and tests innovative solutions for the increasing global problems related to climate, environment, water and food, commissioned by companies and governments. CEW does this together with students, teachers and researchers from universities of applied sciences.

CEW is looking for:

An independent, proactive bachelor student of Communication or Communication and Multimedia Design (CMD) with a pioneering mentality.

This is what you are going to do:

Together with other students and experts you are going to work on a large multi-year project called REGAIN, which is about removing medicine residues from waste water and reusing that water for industry. The project is still in its infancy so there is a lot to explore and map out! What's going to happen? Who are the stakeholders? What does this project mean to them? How are we going to inform them, etc. etc. . After your research you can draw up a (partial) communication plan. One of the means of communication to be developed is a project website, in which you can also play a role. In short, this is an internship that offers you the opportunity to stand at the cradle of something big, in which hundreds of people will eventually be involved and which affects many more.

Your working environment:

The location of this internship is not fixed, it will be (in consultation) with one of the stakeholders of the project. The CEW office is located on the WaterCampus, Oostergoweg 9 in Leeuwarden. Here a team of permanent employees and an ever-changing group of students (10 to 20) work on various projects.

Your profile:

You are independent and like to figure things out on your own. Well-trodden paths are not for you. You can work independently but also enjoy working with different parties. You are not afraid to ask for help or to consult if needed.

What we offer you:

- a socially relevant internship;
- personal and expert guidance;
- support with communication skills;
- an international team with an informal atmosphere;
- regular social activities;
- a competitive internship allowance.
